Mr. [REDACTED]
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Charlotte, North Carolina

Dear Mr. [REDACTED]

Thank you for the suggestion regarding a procedure for use with respect to maintaining material from certain albums unless the subject is deceased. Consideration has been afforded this proposal and it has been decided the additional paper work and expense involved would not be warranted due to the few occasions when this information might be needed.

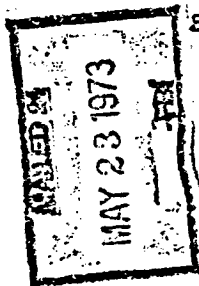

I appreciate the interest which prompted you to submit your idea to me.

Sincerely yours,

SUGGESTION: Suggester recommends changes in Form FD-432a (sample attached) to provide that Form FD-432 (sample attached) NOT be destroyed when an individual is removed from EPA or [REDACTED]. Attached sample FD-432a has been modified to provide for the proposed change, which is that the FD-432 be removed from the album and retained separately by field offices, unless the subject is deceased.

CURRENT PRACTICE: Our current procedures provide for destruction of FD-432, which contains photograph and description, when a person is deleted from album according to the suggester.

ADVANTAGES: SA [REDACTED] states a person is placed in these albums for prominent extremist activities and possible travel. He may be deleted for various reasons, generally that he is no longer active. However, there is no guarantee he might not in the future come to the attention of some office outside his normal residence, with resumption of extremist activities. It seems a mistake to destroy the information, unless he is deceased. The main advantage would be keeping the pertinent information and photograph available, to aid investigation and evaluation if the name should arise. No estimate of monetary savings can be made; the savings would be in investigative time and communications costs.

OBSERVATIONS: Intelligence Division believes this idea should not be adopted. It would involve the retention of a considerable amount of material by all of our field offices merely on the outside possibility that a given [REDACTED] or Extremist subject might visit their territory and that the FD-432 form might later prove of value. This Division believed this possibility is very remote and the extra paper work and expense involved adopting this proposal would not be warranted.

ENCLOSURE

Due to the foregoing views, the Training Division agrees the idea should not be approved.

All Legats are currently in possession of one or more of captioned albums for their use in handling contacts with official foreign sources regarding subjects of Bureau cases. (s)

A Legat representative has indicated the administrative procedures required to maintain these albums in an up-to-date capacity appear to outweigh their actual value as investigative aids.

Accordingly, each Legat should promptly make a determination as to whether or not its operational capacity abroad requires continued use of the album or albums presently in its possession. (s)

Captioned albums, in addition to being maintained in all domestic field offices, are maintained in one or more Legats to assist in handling contacts with foreign police agencies. These albums contain photographs and biographic data of subjects of Bureau cases, including certain fugitives, concerning whom there is or may be reason to believe they are abroad, or have contacts or ties with foreign subversive, extremist or terrorist elements. These albums contain information concerning approximately 600 subjects and they require continual updating in the form of adding or deleting subjects as their investigative priorities change. Since a question has been raised concerning the value of maintaining these albums in Legats, they are being instructed to advise concerning same. (S)

Use or value of the above albums to the Managua Office has been minimal. A number of leads and requests for investigation concerning subjects identified in the albums have been received and handled. In each instance, however, background and identifying data concerning the subjects was furnished by the Bureau along with the leads. (X)

From past experience, the Madrid Office does not feel that our operational capacity abroad requires the continued use of the albums presently in our possession. The infrequent use of these albums is not commensurate with the time required for keeping them up-to-date. In addition, these albums occupy considerable space in our limited number of file cabinets, this being particularly true of the Extremist Photograph Album, which consists of six volumes approximately two inches thick each. Also, in case of an emergency where our files would have to be destroyed, these albums would consume considerable destruction time.

In view of the above, Madrid recommends that these albums be discontinued for this office.

Legat Tel Aviv is in possession of the [redacted] and Weatherman Photograph Albums; the Extremist and Key Activist Photograph
Albums have not been furnished this office.

During the entire period that the Weatherman Album has been in the possession of Legat Tel Aviv there has been no need to refer to it as an investigative aid.

(b1) [redacted] (S)
Legat therefore concurs with the view that the administrative procedures required to maintain the Weatherman Photograph Album in an

Re Bureau letter to Beirut 11/21/73.

The Caracas Office maintains the captioned photograph albums. It has been noted that the amount of time required to keep the albums in an up-to-date status is rather extensive, and the opportunities in which the albums have been found to be of specific investigative assistance in the Caracas Office territory have been very infrequent. (S)

It is not believed that the albums represent to the Caracas Office the same specific investigative aids that they may represent to other offices, and the operations of the Caracas Office do not particularly require the continued use of the albums. A good deal of time is spent in maintaining the albums in a current status and the utilization of the albums in connection with investigative operations of the Caracas Office is rare. (S)

The amount of time expended in setting up the albums and subsequent indexing and insertion of amendments does not appear warranted in view of the minimal value they have had in the past and are likely to have in the future. C

Based on the experience of this office, it does not appear that continued use of these albums abroad is warranted. C

ReBulet to Legat, Beirut, dated 11-21-73.

Legat Rome firmly agrees that the administrative procedures required to maintain captioned albums in an up-to-date status outweighs their present value as investigative aids. Legat has carefully analyzed their operational value and has determined that on only rare occasion has information contained therein been of assistance, and even in those instances, pertinent information could have been easily and readily obtained from the Bureau by cable or other suitable communication.

Legat Rome recommends that the Bureau recall the above-captioned albums or allow Legat to destroy them locally.

By letter to all Legats dated 11/21/73, Legats were requested to advise the Bureau as to whether continued retention of captioned albums is necessary in light of comments made by a Legat representative indicating their administrative updating and maintenance outweighs their value as investigative aides. Captioned albums contain photographs and biographic data of Bureau subjects, including certain fugitives, who may be abroad or who are known to have some link with foreign subversive or extremist elements. Manila does not maintain the Extremist Photograph Album or Key

The Weatherman Photograph Album is maintained but has been of little use. When a substantive case has been received concerning someone mentioned therein, the photographs of the person have normally been furnished with the request for investigation.

We maintain the Extremist Bureau Fugitive List (Bufile 157-19861) and find it the most useful of all due to Australian interest in such persons.

With the implementation of the plan to send out index cards from Headquarters together with the album changes, the most time consuming part of administering the albums will be greatly improved. Perhaps additional streamlining can be adopted. For example, there seems little reason to retain and file routing slips from the Bureau deleting or adding inserts and this office plans to cease doing so. If there is an insert in file we presumably got it from the Bureau and if there is an index card but no insert it can just as easily be presumed the album entry was deleted by the Bureau.

VIEWS OF THE INTELLIGENCE DIVISION RE: SUGGESTION 392-74

INTELLIGENCE DIVISION ADDENDUM, 12/11/73, [REDACTED] 7C

This suggestion proposes that Forms FD-432 and 432a (relating to the Extremist Photograph Album and the [REDACTED] be revised to allow for entries indicating the subject is a Potential Police Attacker (sic) and/or is on the Extremist Bureau Fugitive List. Suggestion is unfavorably recommended. Potential Police Assassin is a category handled by Division 9 and it is not believed this item should be imposed on a Form dealing with extremists and [REDACTED] handled in Division 5. No useful purpose would be served. In addition, we definitely believe that a subject's fugitive status should not be a factor with regard to either of these Forms. In fact, current instructions make it clear that the Extremist Photograph Album is not to be used as a device for identifying fugitives. Whether or not an individual is a fugitive could fluctuate from day to day and thus our Extremist Photograph Album could include erroneous information in this regard for an extended period of time. Re: Bureau letter 11/21/73.

Since these albums were furnished to Tokyo, we have derived practically no benefit from them, and have devoted an estimated 200 hours of clerical time to their maintenance, including indexing.

The greatest burden has been making minor corrections, additions and deletions in the Weatherman and Extremist Photograph Albums, including data on education, address, office of origin, category, type of automobile driven, etc. -- which is practically worthless to a Legal Attache. This was pointed out in a Suggestion by this office on 6/28/72, but Bureau was not at the time able to adopt this suggestion (to furnish only major changes to Legats) because more work would have been entailed at FBI Headquarters.

At this point, my considered feeling is that no more additions to the Extremist Photograph Album should be given Legats, or at least to Tokyo. Very few black extremists have visited our territory and when they have, pertinent details have been provided by the Bureau by cable. Likewise, should a suspected extremist appear here, we can promptly obtain needed information by cable. Since we already have the album and it is all indexed, we may as well keep it for future reference, but in a few years it should probably be destroyed. ~~X~~

What applies to the Key Activists is true to nearly the same degree with respect to the Weatherman Photograph Album. It is suggested that we continue to keep this album, but, if screening non-pertinent data from inserts sent to Legats presents increased work at the Bureau, that the Bureau authorize each Legat to incorporate in the album only those changes which he regards as pertinent to his operation. ~~X~~

Captioned Albums contain photographs and biographic data of Bureau subjects, including certain fugitives, who may be abroad or who are known to have some link with foreign subversive or extremist groups. Referenced Legat letter is nonspecific as regards Legats continued necessity for maintaining each of the captioned Albums and, in fact, contains suggestions with respect to further submissions to Legats of inserts for inclusion in those Albums which are irrelevant in light of the purpose of this survey.

Hong Kong has had no occasion to use the albums in question, but this could be due to the territory which is covered by this office. Hong Kong and Saigon are not areas in which those who are contained in the albums would operate nor could either be considered a haven for fugitives.

The administrative procedures required to keep the albums current are considerable and do require a great deal of clerical time to maintain them. The recent Bureau decision to provide index cards for such albums in the future will be of assistance, but certainly will not eliminate the bulk of the work involved.

The main purpose of the albums is to have a ready reference which would allow Legats to make definite identifications or provide information pertaining to those contained in the albums. As stated above, Hong Kong has yet to make use of these albums, but it, of course, does not mean that sometime in the future they might prove invaluable.

On balance, however, I would say that these albums do not add significantly to the operational ability of a Legal Attache Office and could be eliminated without any great loss.

Recommendation:

It is recommended that the above-captioned albums no longer be maintained in Legal Attache Offices.

Since receipt of relet by Legat, London, a survey has been conducted by all members of Legat staff regarding whether or not the above albums serve any useful purpose. It is the opinion of the London Office that the administrative time required to maintain the albums outweighs their value as an investigative aid, and it is recommended by London that their retention in this office be discontinued.

STREAMLINING COMMITTEE SUGGESTION
819-74

Employee, through the Streamlining Committee of the Files and Communications Division, has suggested that Form FD-432a used for submitting sketches for the (B) (u) (Bufile 105-242604) and Extremist Photograph Album (Bufile 157-23582) be routed as Not Recorded mail.

This form is currently handled as Recorded mail. According to the instruction card in the Classifying Unit, it is unnecessary to index the names contained on the form. The sketches on the individuals are detached in the Intelligence Division and filed in albums or are disseminated. No enclosures are sent to file.

Suggester states that if the mail is routed as Not Recorded mail, it would eliminate the mail being serialized in the Numbering Unit, it would not be necessary to prepare abstracts in the Recording Unit and would eliminate the filing of abstracts in the Numbering and Service Units. This would save time in the handling of the mail in the Records Section and would eliminate some work.

The appropriate desks handling these matters in the Intelligence Division were contacted and it was determined they know of no real necessity for recording these forms. It was also determined that there is not a great volume of these forms and would not exceed two or three per week at this time.

Re: [REDACTED]

The Streamlining Committee was of the opinion that this suggestion has merit inasmuch as the form submitting the material for the albums is nothing more than a cover letter requiring no indexing. However, after research was made into the current volume of mail of this type being received, it was found that only about four such communications per week are being submitted. The Streamlining Committee felt that little time was being spent in processing this mail because of the small volume received and, therefore, the process of changing the necessary manuals would not warrant adoption at this time. A sample of the form used to transmit material for the albums is attached (FD-432a).

Since suggestion is not being adopted, employee will be advised and thanked orally and it will not be necessary to acknowledge suggestion by letter.

*Employee thanked

April 3, 1987

Honorable Patricia Schroeder
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

Dear Congresswoman Schroeder:

7C This confirms my telephone conversation with you today regarding the document enclosed with your letter of March 13, 1987. This document purports to be a completed form sheet containing your photograph and information about you for inclusion in the FBI Terrorist Photograph Album. This document, which you relate was brought to your attention by the attorney for [REDACTED], is spurious. While the form itself appears to be a form used by the FBI in the preparation of its Terrorist Photograph Album, I have been assured following a careful hand search of the entire album that you do not appear in our album nor have you ever appeared in our album, nor would we have the slightest basis for including you in our album.

For your information, the FBI Terrorist Photograph Album is compiled in accordance with Attorney General Guidelines governing domestic security/terrorism investigations and foreign counter-intelligence investigations. Only the subjects of full terrorism investigations are included in this album.

7C I am unable to explain how our blank form came into possession of someone prepared to fabricate this document. To date, the attorney for [REDACTED] has imposed unacceptable conditions for making [REDACTED] available for questioning by the FBI, much as we would like to do so. In all other respects, our investigation has been complete, but you can appreciate the importance of that interview. (TW)

We intend to answer as many of your remaining concerns as possible consistent with the limitations placed on us by on-going litigation. Inasmuch as the spurious document was central to your concerns, I wanted you to have this unequivocal statement as soon as possible.

Re New York Airtel dated October 27, 1987 captioned as above.

Referenced New York airtel requested that FBIHQ provide New York with the most recent directives concerning administration, maintenance and disposition of the Terrorist Photograph Album (TPA).

The Terrorist Research and Analytical Center is currently conducting a comprehensive review of the procedures for submission of material to the TPA. All field offices and Legal Attaches will be advised of the results of this review when it is completed. Until new instructions are set forth by FBIHQ submission of material to the TPA should be handled in accordance with procedures established in an airtel from the Director to all SACs and LEGATs dated March 11, 1983, captioned "Terrorist Photograph Album; Foreign Counterintelligence - Terrorism." That airtel instructed that an FD-432 form for each person who is or becomes the subject of a terrorism investigation will be submitted to FBIHQ. Further instructions stipulated that FBIHQ will require three completed FD-432 forms on each subject; however, the requirement to furnish each field office with a completed FD-432 for each subject no longer apply. Completed FD-432 forms will, as provided by the FD-432a, be furnished to designated recipients at the discretion of the office of origin or at the direction of FBIHQ.

Instructions from FBIHQ also required that three completed FD-432 forms on each individual be submitted; however, the requirement that a completed form be furnished to each field office no longer applied. Completed forms, at the direction of FBIHQ or office of origin, would be furnished to designated recipients. The existing TPA was redesigned to contain photographs, biographical descriptions and a narrative on the activities of all individuals who were being investigated pursuant to the provisions of full international terrorism investigations. These requirements for submission of material for the TPA remain in force.

Since 1983, review of information submitted for inclusion in the TPA has been left to the discretion of the appropriate case supervisor. After review by the case supervisor, the material would be initialed into file with no further review by the Terrorism Section. As a result of this procedure there was no central point within the Terrorism Section responsible for maintaining the TPA. [In effect, the only complete copy of TPA was contained in FBIHQ file 105-242604, which is maintained by Records Management Division.] (X)

In order to enhance the Terrorism Section's administration of the TPA and to ensure that all submissions of material to the album be thoroughly reviewed, it is recommended that a central point within the Terrorism Section be designated for administrative control of the TPA. All current requirements for the submission of material to the TPA will remain in force. Appropriate case supervisors will continue to review all submissions for his or her assigned areas; however, after the case supervisor has reviewed and initialed the material it will be forwarded to the TRAC so that a copy of the submission may be retained in a centralized administrative tickler file. Furthermore, TRAC will review all material submitted to the TPA to ensure that it conforms with the requirements currently in effect.

TERRORIST PHOTOGRAPH ALBUM (TPA)
INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM

This communication is classified ~~SECRET~~ in its entirety.

Effective immediately, the TPA has been discontinued. The TPA has not proven to be either the envisioned investigative aid or ready reference since its creation in 1973. Furthermore, the TPA as compiled could create a perception that all subjects whose photographs and biographic information are contained therein are "terrorists," which is in fact, not accurate.

In discontinuing the TPA, all serials have been removed and placed into individual substantive files at FBIHQ. In cases where no substantive file exists, TPA serials have been placed into the main organizational file to which the subject was affiliated.

RE: Terrorist Photograph Album (TPA)
International Terrorism

The FD-432, as well as the FD-432a forms, are to be revised and notification will be provided when they become available. Until this can be accomplished, recipient offices are advised to continue to gather the information requested on the FD-432 forms and to submit the information in accordance with previous practice. Information can still be submitted using current FD-432 forms, by deleting the caption "Terrorist Photograph Album (TPA)" on the FD-432a next to "Subject" and replacing it with the name of the individual about whom the information concerns. These forms will be serialized into the subject's substantive file or main organizational file at FBIHQ.

Note: This airtel notifies all field offices and Legal Attaches of a change in policy regarding the TPA as a result of the CISPES investigation. These changes are set forth in O. B. Revell to Director memorandum, dated 11/15/88, captioned "CISPES Report, Changes in Policy Procedures."
